Objectives

While no shortcuts exist to become a high-level soccer player, proper coaching, hard work, and incentive to learn are the major ingredients for improvement. Aces Soccer Camp provides these ingredients, giving young boys an opportunity to develop as soccer players. Focused training methods emphasize total development of both technical and tactical aspects of the game. In addition to all-around player development, training for specific positions and individual technical items are addressed. Campers are grouped by age and skill level in all training and game situations.

Many University of Evansville Purple Aces soccer players started their careers at Aces Soccer Camp. Dustin Ottesen, once a camper, was a captain and all-conference selection at UE before going on to star for the A-League Indiana Blast.

Join Aces Soccer Camp for an intense soccer learning experience and become a better player.

A Message from the Director

My goal is for the Aces Soccer Camp coaching staff to place the same focus and attention to detail in developing quality players in camp as we do at the University of Evansville. I want each camper to learn and develop as a player and person and to acquire skills that he can take home. Campers are mentored under the premise that “practice makes permanent, not perfect.” I have combined an outstanding curriculum with one of the best staffs available anywhere in the country. I hope you will join us this summer for an outstanding soccer experience.

– Mike Jacobs, Camp Director

Day Camp

Tuition: $100 – Half Day – Boys Ages 5-13

Tuition: $175 – Full Day – Boys Ages 8-13

The day camps are the first camp experience for many young soccer players and are designed to instruct in individual skills, tactics, and the fundamentals of team play. Aces Soccer Camp features a staff of capable instructors who can fully demonstrate each skill. Each morning begins with a demonstration of individual skills. Then campers break into groups by age level and ability and begin playing. Mornings conclude with matches in each age group. Half-day campers should be picked up at noon. Full-day campers should be picked up at 4:00 p.m.

Full-day campers are responsible for bringing their own lunches Monday through Friday. Coolers will be provided for the lunches.

The camp is located at Black Beauty Field at Arad McCutchan Stadium on the University of Evansville's campus. The entrance is located off of the Arad McCutchan Stadium parking lot on Frederick Street. Bathrooms and indoor space for shelter from severe weather is available.
